Have to zoom in a bit to start reading the thread, but right-wing extremists are talking about tunnels below the Capitol Complex and the allegiances of USCP officers.

Subject: FYSA - thread in OSINT research

Hi John,

Just wanted to flag for your analysis/threat team a thread we came across this morning that has garnered quite a bit of interest online. The original post is a map of the Capitol grounds supposedly showing the tunnel system underneath the campus, and the thread has several mentions of digging, probing security, carrying tools to the capitol, and pizzagate conspiracies. Since there seems to be no direct threat it has not met our threshold for a post of concern yet, but wanted to flag for your awareness. The URL for the thread is at the bottom of the screenshot, which requires you to zoom in.
